Garden centre Mackenzie & Cruickshank (UK)

All the possibilities of a refurbishment

Smiemans Projecten has more than 45 years experience in building and renovating glass constructions, especially for garden centres. Refurbishment could be an extension like we recently did for Garden Centre Mackenzie & Cruickshank. The satisfied owner, Peter Wilson opened his refurbished garden centre before spring started. The HighLight arched greenhouse of 400m² is a real eye-catcher at the entrance of the garden centre. The two new wide spans of 665m² function as a canopy for a part of the sales outside.

Shopping centre Avoca in Dublin (IE)

Transformation of a garden centre into a shopping centre

A refurbishment can also be a transformation of an existing building, like we recently did for the famous Irish retail chain Avoca. With some simple adjustments, like a new insulated roof, we changed this traditional garden centre into a stunning shopping centre in Dublin. In this leisure centre there are several shops, food halls, cafes and garden centre. Nice detail is that we built this garden centre in 2003 ourselves.

ENTERTAINING THE CUSTOMER, GENERATING MORE SALES

With a new build or refurbishment, you create more space, this means more sales area. This can be used for a cosy restaurant or farm shop, a play corner for the children or a shop-in-shop. A canopy allows customers to shop pleasantly also with bad weather.

SHARP BUDGET GREAT RESULT

The well-run garden centre Groves near Bridport (UK) will expand with a restaurant in our recognizable HighLight, making this location an even more popular destination for a day out.

A refurbishment is possible in a short time, with a sharp budget, without having to close your store. With our experience we can help you to achieve the best result.

METAMORPHOSE FOR SQUIRE'S GARDEN CENTRE

Soon we are going to start at Squire's garden centre in Woking, south of London.

A new entrance, a HighLight arched greenhouse and a venlo canopy will extent this garden centre with almost 1,700 m² extra space. It will give this garden centre a total metamorphose for the future.
